

No Manifesto

Cha cha cha cha cha,
after Yvonne Rainer

No to possibility.

No to invention.

No to transformations and magic and making-it-work.

No to the sleight-of-hand and deceptive ease of the trickster-genius.

No to ambition.

No to complacency.

No to making a spectacle of care.

No to managing oneself or others.

No to resourcefulness.

No to taking all responsibility.

No to killing two birds with one stone.

No to accommodating or transcending the situation.

No to finding or being the solution.
